June 2013

Dear Class of 2013,

Graduation is an exciting time, as it ought to be, because it represents a real achievement in your life. It's also a time when you can begin to contemplate the opportunities that lie before you. Doing what was necessary to reach this goal has prepared you to reach the next. These past four years have gone by so quickly, and it is hard to comprehend that you will all be graduating and moving onto the next chapter of your lives.

It is with a strange mixture of melancholy and pride that we bid farewell to your class. You are one of the strongest classes that have passed through the doors of the Lindenhurst High School. You embody the ideal of Lindy Pride. We are most proud of your underlying positivity and comradery; always helping one another and working together to reach a common goal. Continue to strive to be the best even when the odds are against you. We will miss all your smiling faces, but are confident that your diligence, hard work, sincerity, and perseverance will allow each and every one of you to achieve your dreams. As you begin planning your future, realize that success is measured by the amount of happy moments your life contains. Remember to laugh often, find the best in others and appreciate the beauty the world holds. Discover what is important to you and stay focused.

As your advisors we hope you always look back fondly at our time spent together; as we will do the same. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to work with such a unique and enthusiastic group. We wish you all the best in your future achievements. Thank you for the wonderful memories; they will truly last a lifetime. We will miss you. Best wishes and congratulations!

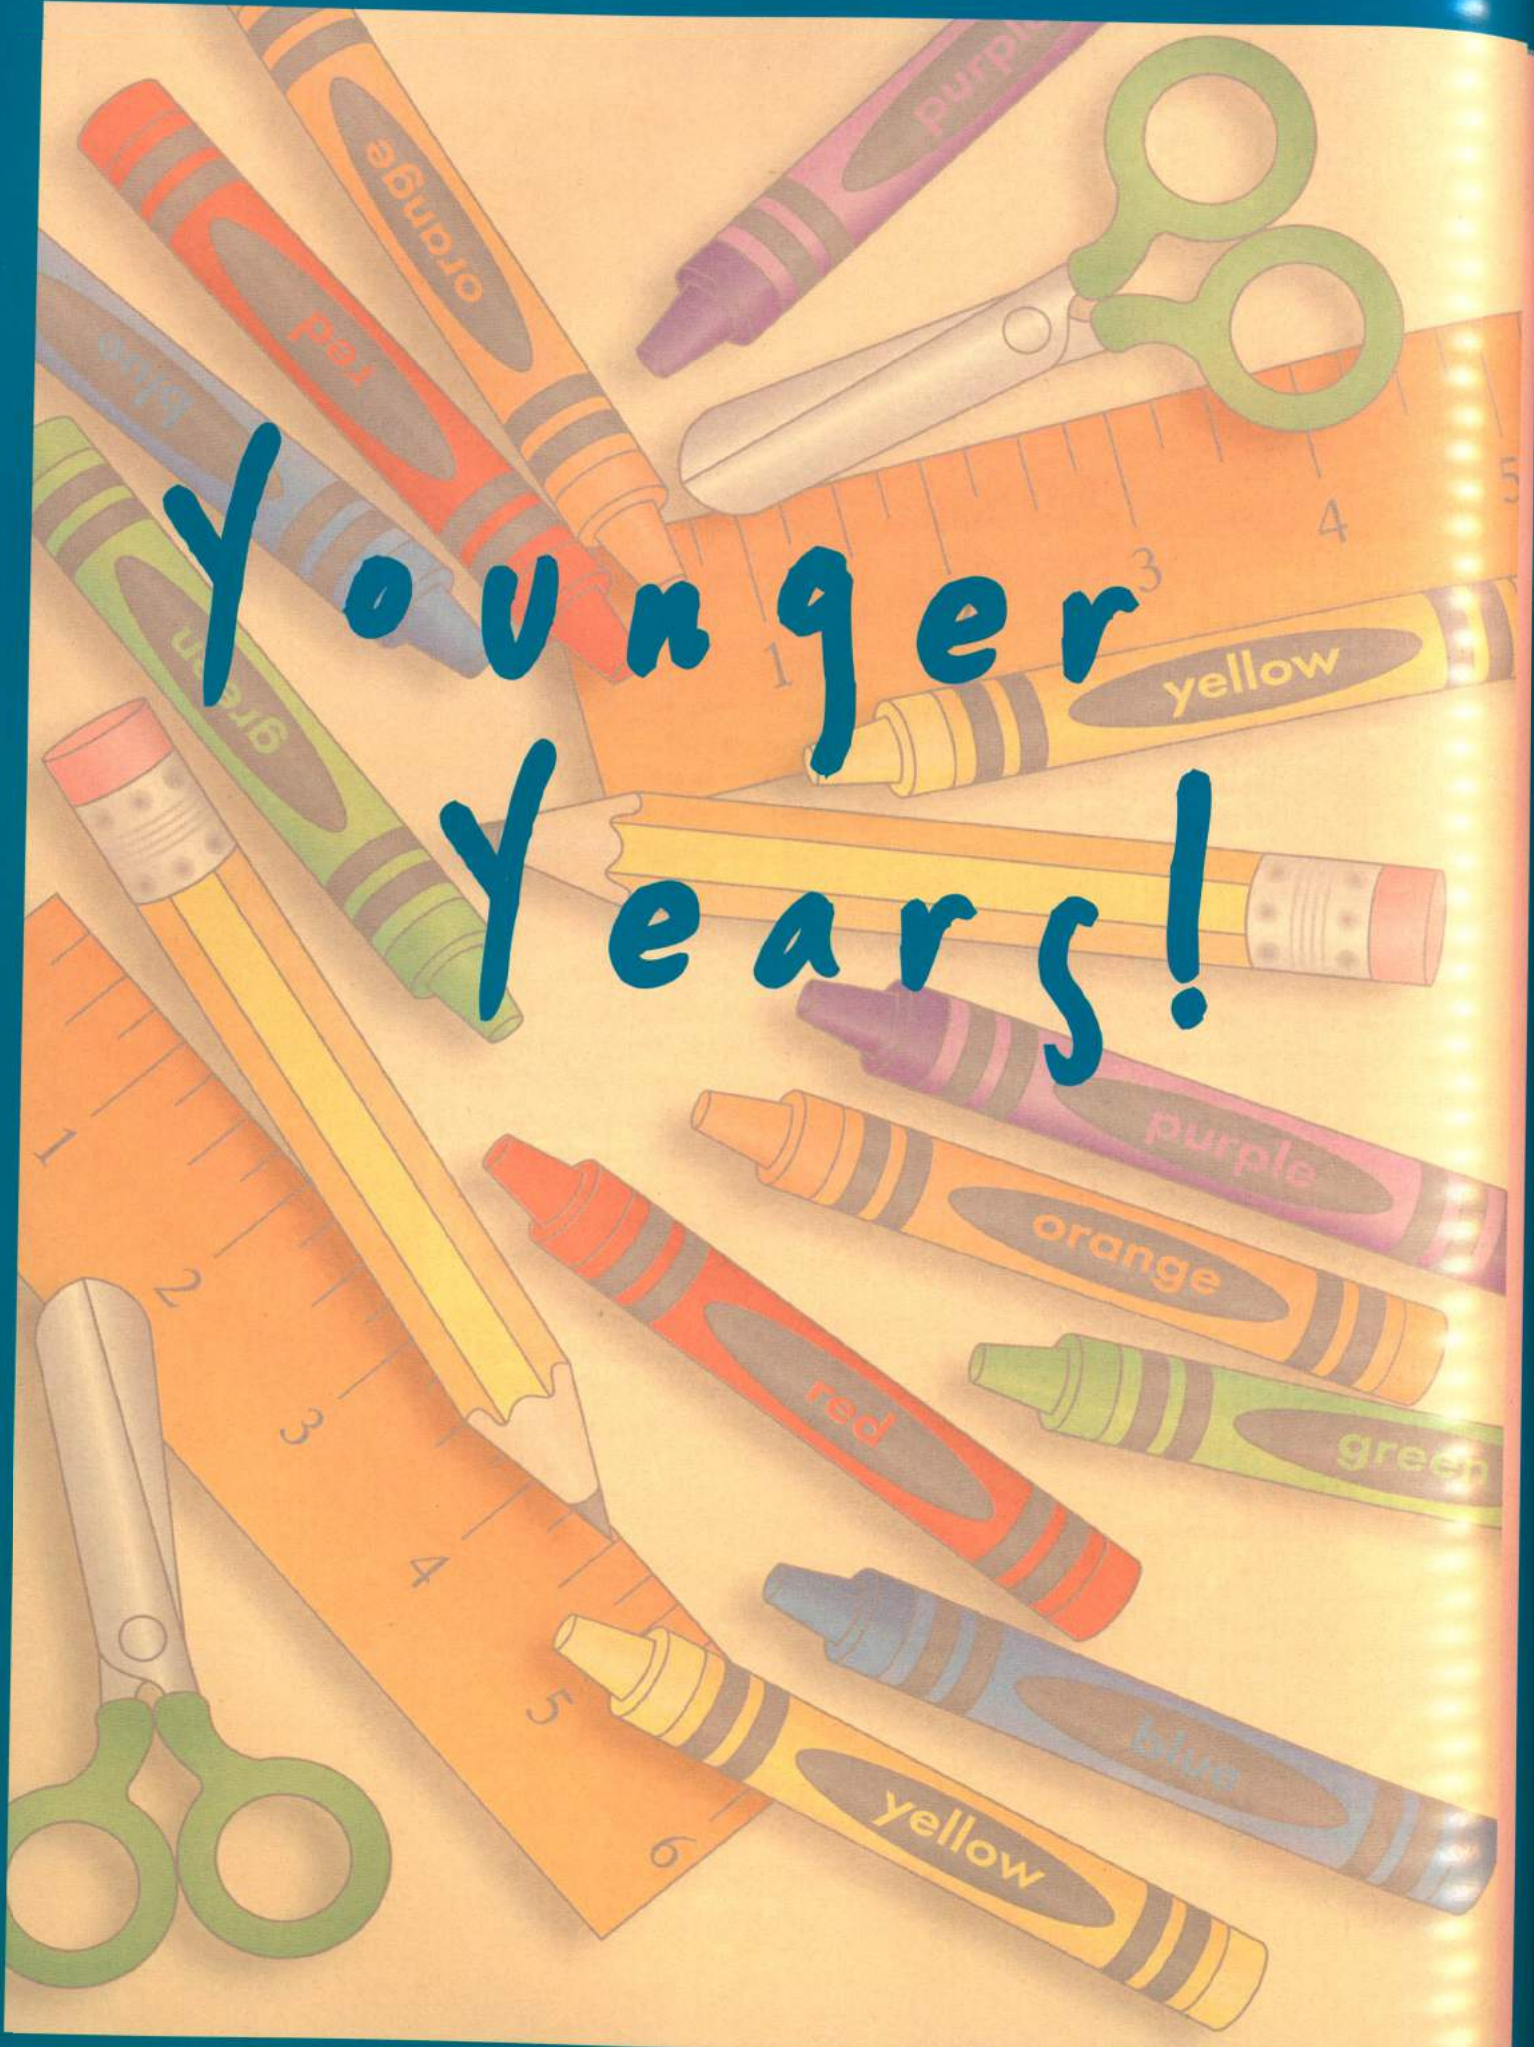

With one more bit of advice from the words of Dr. Seuss,

"You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. And YOU are the one who'll decide where to go... Your're off to great places, today is your day, your mountain is waiting, so get on your way!"

Sincerely

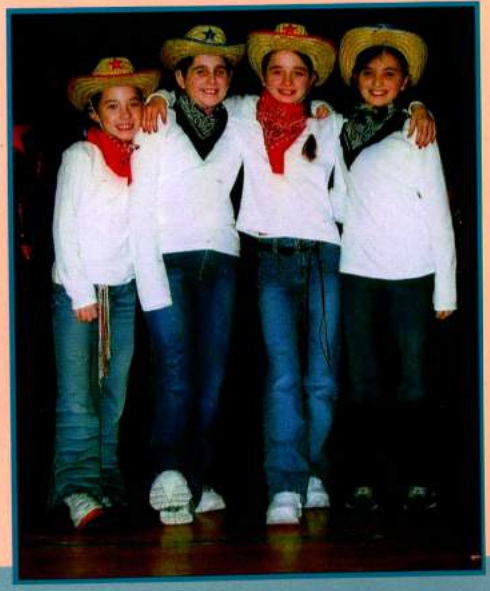

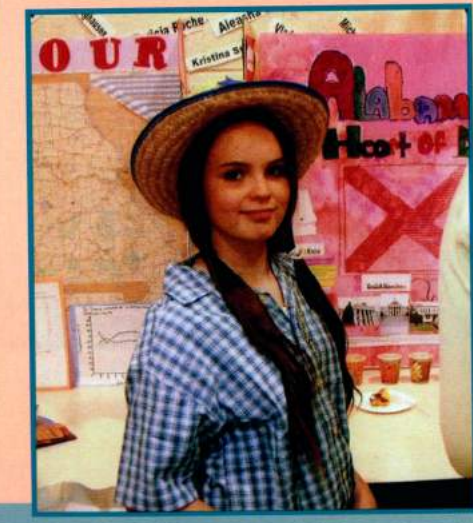

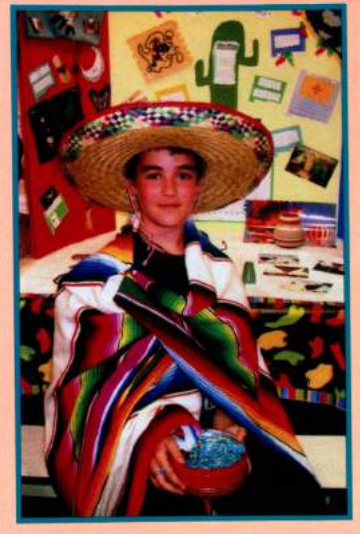

Ms. Marx & Ms. Kreppein

Dear Seniors:

As you reach this milestone in your lives I share with each one of you the feeling of pride in your accomplishments. You have been an enthusiastic, motivated, and academically oriented Senior Class, one I am proud represents our high school.

Upon your graduation you will enter a new phase of your life. I hope that you will have fond memories of the last four years. These were the years that you've cultivated friendships, had experiences and learned the things that have shaped the person you have become. The responsibilities you accepted, the conscientiousness you have shown, and your dedication to learning are all characteristics that should be continued in your future endeavors.

I am confident that you will go on into the future with the confidence to meet all the challenges that await you, that you will make decisions with the same intelligence compassion and integrity that you have demonstrated during your years at the High School, and that the vision and dreams you have for your future will become a reality.

On behalf of the faculty and staff I applaud your achievements and wish you success in all your future endeavors.

Sincerely yours,

Daniel E. Giordano, Principal

Dear graduate,

June, 2013 is finally here. You have waited a long time for this moment to arrive. As a young child, you began crawling and you have never stopped. You made your way to a new beginning, one that has opened up a whole new world for you. Some of you will go to college. Some of you will learn a trade. Some of you are still trying to figure what the next move is. The key is to keep crawling and don't ever stop. Keep your life alive and filled with joy, happiness, and most of all grow to become great people. Be kind to one another. Be tolerant of people around you. Some of them may not measure up to your expectations. But remember the least you expect, the least you will be disappointed. Life moves fast and hopefully you can maintain a good pace.

Sometimes experiences will point you in a different direction, or slow you down. Put one foot in front of the other, keep your chin up, and make the choice that benefits you the most. Remember that you come first in making good life decisions. Do what makes you happy. Do what gives you joy. Do what gives you the confidence to always move forward. If you find yourself in an adverse situation through no fault of your own, change it. You are in charge of what lies ahead. Stay confident, stay safe, and stay focused.

As you are handed your diploma, get the handshake, and listen to the crowds clap and cheer, remember that you have already accomplished great things, and great things are still to come. I applaud you for your accomplishments, and wish you great success.

Sincerely,

Donna Deptuch

Meghan,
 On the day you were born you filled my life with love and joy. You are an amazing young woman who is intelligent, passionate, dedicated and wickedly funny. Watching you grow into the woman you have become has been an honor and I am so proud of you today and always. As Harry Truman once said, "You can always amend a big plan, but you can never expand a little one. I don't believe in little plans." Meghan, I hope you always plan and dream big. I love you always.

Love, Mom

My dear Chris,
 I had it right from the start. "The Ultimate Child". You are my heart and soul.

(Our beautiful baby boy)

has grown up to be a handsome, kind, and caring young man. You have been a wonderful big brother to your sister and a wonderful son to us. Your respect for people makes us so proud of the adult you have become. Your intelligence "wows" us everyday and you will excel in everything you choose to do. We look forward to the next exciting chapter in your life. We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. We are so proud and thankful that you are our son.

We love you so much.

Love,
Mom&Dad

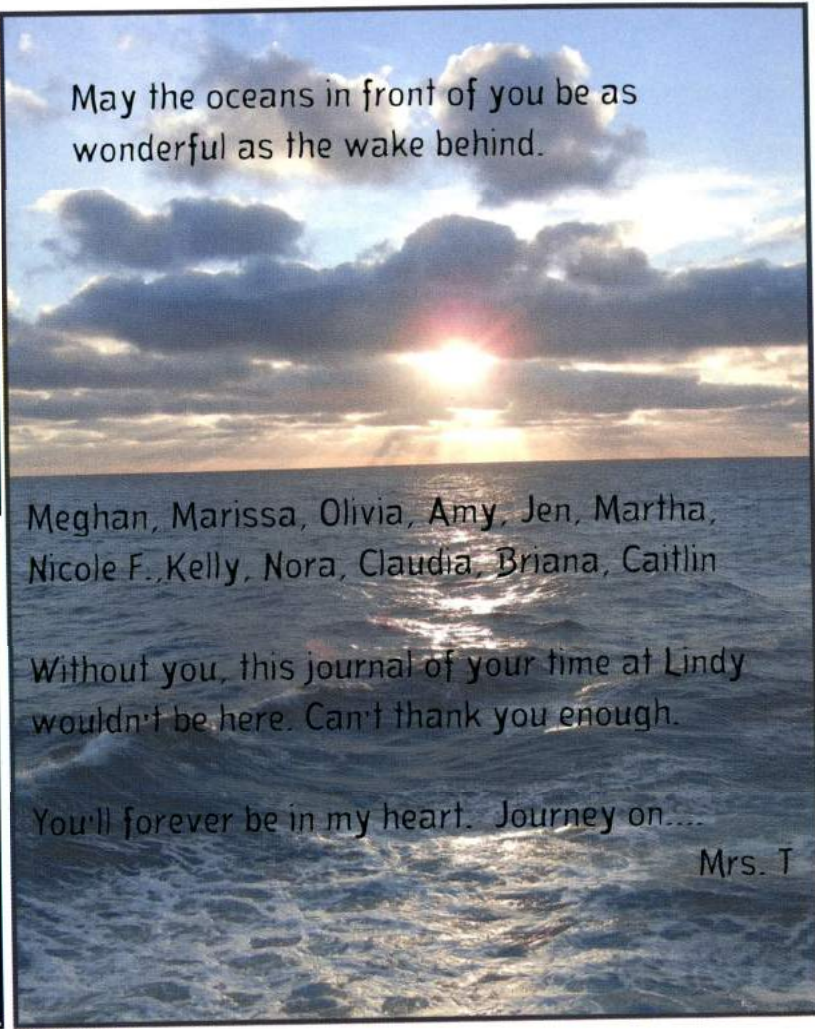

Dear Patrick,
